The Santa Monica History Museum is a non-profit organization, founded in 1975. We strive to collect and preserve the history, art and culture of the Santa Monica Bay Area and to be the caretaker of its history. Our mission is the advancement of historical information and education, through the collection, documentation and preservation of objects and memorabilia relating to Santa Monica. The museum's goal is to provide public access to its extensive collection through interpretive exhibitions, various programs and research services for everyone.

★ DISTINGUISHED HONOREES ★

Eddie and Evelyn Guerboian

Eddie and Evelyn Guerboian have been longtime prominent and active community members in Santa Monica, serving numerous nonprofit organizations. Each has received special awards for their distinguished service. Eddie is the proud owner of Reader's Fine Jewelers, one of the oldest jewelers in the city.

IN RECOGNITION

The Santa Monica History Museum

The Santa Monica History Museum preserves the history, art, and culture of the Santa Monica Bay Area. Its major projects include saving the city's oldest brick building from demolition, sponsoring the city's first archaeological dig, and doing the research that gave the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club landmark status.

The City of Santa Monica

Santa Monica is blessed with the glistening of the blue Pacific and the golden sunshine of California. It developed from a Spanish land grant to become one of the most popular and renowned cities in the world. Hundreds of thousands of people swarm to its beaches and Santa Monica Pier each year.

The Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club

The Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club was organized for the purpose of the advancement in all lines of culture, education, child welfare, social services, and philanthropy. During World War I and World War II, it made significant contributions to the war effort.
